CIS Security Solutions is open for business and has plenty of inventory. We are taking all the recommended precautions, necessary to ensure a clean and healthy environment at our offices and warehouse, and we have implemented social distancing and staggered shifts so we may continue to serve our clients.

CIS would like to say Thank You to the men and women who are keeping us all supplied with the items we need to get through the Covid-19 pandemic.

Thank you to all the essential people who are working so hard to keep the supply chain running: Thank You to the grocers, the convenience stores, the pharmacies, the distribution centers, the fuel companies, the truck drivers, the travel plazas, the restaurants and retailers who have implemented curbside and home delivery, the hardware stores, the shipping & delivery companies, the manufacturers, all the other essential personnel that cannot self-isolate or work from home, and those that deliver the news to us in its various forms. In these unsettled times, everyone is pulling together to keep the needed products flowing and are keeping us in the information loop, and we appreciate it.

Special thanks go to the grocery stores who are doing everything they can to ensure stock on the shelves, creating special shopping hours for the seniors and for hiring additional associates from the pool of service workers who have been displaced by their businesses being shut down.

We salute you all!

Thank you and be well,

Peter Morello
